

NEWS FROM THE FRONT

FORMER GLENDALE RESIDENTS TELL OF WAR TIMES IN ENGLAND

The Misses Penn, who were formerly resident in Glendale, on Adams street, but removed to England some time ago and are now resident in Sussex, write interestingly to their friend, Miss Ina Whitaker, 208 W. Ninth street, concerning war times in England. "What do you think," says the correspondent, "of the tidal wave that has overtaken and is overwhelming the Teuton? It would be impossible for us to realize it were it not for the terrific sound of the guns. Formerly we did not hear but a faint echo of the firing at the front. Now Britain has an overwhelming array of guns on the western front and they never cease night or day. The Germans, too, have massed a most formidable array of big guns around Bapaume and are thundering back with all the force of their great artillery.

"Saturday, July 1, we were all haymaking. It was a blazing hot day. One of the few very hot days we have had. Everything was 'English' and peaceful; and then in contrast we heard the deep rumble of the guns on the Picardy line. It was so deep and so vast that it was almost impossible to believe that it was 140 miles away. The very ground shook and trembled. 'Good gracious,' said my companion, 'the Teutons are getting it over there.' Every now and then an explosion more marked than the routine punctuated. I suppose, the blowing up of a field ammunition depot or a salvo of more than usual volume. 'Hefty Annie,' 'Grandmother' and the rest, as the soldiers call their big guns, are certainly being well fed. The supply of ammunition must be endless.

"An endless stream of wounded soldiers is coming back from that glorious Picardy front. They are all in good spirits and laugh and talk of the recent desperate fighting as 'a glorious mixup with the bulldog on the top.' They are more than splendid, officers and 'Tommy's' alike.

"One of our New Zealand cousins was back again from the front this week. This is the second time that he has been wounded. One of our English cousins has been eight months invalided and is eager to get into the fray again. Our former rector at Waldron received notice the other day that his son was killed at the fighting in Picardy and also that another Waldron lad was killed at the same time. We went over to Waldron on Sunday and found the rector officiating at the service as usual and his wife presiding at the organ. There was not a whimper out of either of them nor from the congregation even with that and other tragedies hanging over them. Their thoughts lie too deep for tears.

"Another of our English cousins, a boy of 21, went to the front this week. When one hears that eternal rumble and thunder of the guns one wonders how any of them ever get home again, out of that inferno. Wilfred, another of our many cousins, came home from the front the other day. He was covered with mud and blood and was almost unrecognizable. His sister met him on the road and took his rifle from him and ran home before him. When they saw her with the rifle they exclaimed, 'Where did you get that?' Then they all jumped to the door, crying, 'Wilfred, Wilfred.' After a rest and a change of outfit he will go back again into the Picardy furnace. He just missed his brother who had been home and had left. He is in a different regiment.

"Glendale people will be interested in learning that Dick Van Vestrant, who used to be resident in Glendale when his father, Dr. Van Vestrant, had a practice there, is with his regiment in Egypt.

"You have heard that the government has ordered an advance of one hour in the time of day. The clocks were all put forward an hour. We now go to bed while it is still daylight. Don't forget the long evenings and the twilight of England.

"Prosser Penn, our brother, is a member of the Volunteer Territorial corps, for home defence. They are expecting their uniforms shortly and of course are ready to go to the front if called on. We should be getting our Glendale paper regularly but somehow only on occasional one reaches us. The exigencies of war, I suppose."

Prof. A. L. Ferguson of the Glendale Union High School teaching staff, who has been spending the summer vacation at Santa Barbara, has been in Glendale the past few days, the guest of Prof. and Mrs. Harry L. Howe.

SCORING OF MILK

MRS. HELEN E. MACMULLIN SHOWS SUPERIORITY OF LO- CAL DAIRY PRODUCT

In answer to Milk Inspector Hollenbeck's report on our home dairies, that scores range from 59 to 75, would state the last score given to MacMullin's Sanitary Dairy by Mr. Hollenbeck was 86. I wish to dispute Mr. Hollenbeck's statement with reference to the fact that milk has to be pasteurized in order to obtain 100 points, being perfect. The State does not demand any such thing.

On the face of this one can readily see that our home inspector—whom our home dairies support—is advertising an outside concern which is selling cheap pasteurized milk. Certified milk which is recommended by all doctors for babies and invalids and sold at fifteen cents a quart is raw milk delivered fresh the day it is milked and is exactly the same product that our home dairies are putting out since our cows have been tuberculin tested.

Milk that is shipped into Los Angeles from a radius of 100 miles around and from herds that are not tuberculin tested, that runs from 24 to 36 hours old when the consumer gets it once a day, must be pasteurized according to the State law, otherwise it would not be fit for human consumption.

Do the people of Glendale want pasteurized milk 24 to 36 hours old, from cows that are not tuberculin tested? Or do they want fresh, wholesome milk from tuberculin tested herds delivered fresh twice daily? One can readily see that Mr. Hollenbeck is allowing his prejudices to run away with his good judgment.

AUTO ACCIDENT

Quite a serious auto accident occurred Wednesday afternoon about 3 o'clock on Verdugo road, near Sycamore canyon. N. P. Wheeler of No. 3 Westmoreland avenue, Pasadena, accompanied by two ladies and driven by a chauffeur, was enjoying a drive through the beautiful scenery of the foothills. On Verdugo road, at a spot where there is rather a sharp turn, the chauffeur looked round to answer some query when, in some way, he lost control of the auto, which ran into a tree with great force.

The impact threw Mr. Wheeler into the windshield with such violence that he was very badly cut about the head and suffered internal injuries of a minor character. The injured man was taken to the office of Dr. T. C. Young and Dr. Cole of Los Angeles and Dr. Shirk of Pasadena were called to assist in dressing the wounds, which were quite serious and demanded considerable care. One of the ladies was slightly injured.

GOES TO SINGLE TAX CON- VENTION

Mrs. Lona Ingham Robinson of 114 S. Maryland avenue will leave this evening for Buffalo, N. Y., as a delegate to the National Single Tax convention.

Mrs. Robinson is president of the Los Angeles Single Tax League and has been a most active worker in getting the Single Tax Amendment on the ballot to be voted on by the people of California in November. Having been engaged in the Single Tax propaganda for the past twenty years, Mrs. Robinson is personally acquainted with the foremost lecturers and organizers of the United States. She expects while in the east to secure speakers of national reputation for the present campaign in California.

CAPTURE AUSTRIAN AVIATION BASE

VICTOR-IMMANUEL'S TROOPS PUSH ON FOR THE TAKING OF THE CITY OF TRIESTE

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

ROME, Aug. 10.—In the advance of the Italian troops beyond Gorizia, captured by them Wednesday, they found the Austrians retreating in such haste that they were unable to dismantle a large aviation base about six miles from the city. The hangars were still occupied by several aeroplanes and a large aviation outfit was also discovered. Some of the aviators got away with their planes.

FLOUR ADVANCES FIFTY CENTS A BARREL

HUGE WHEAT SHORTAGE SENDS PRICES OF HOUSEHOLD NECESSITY UP FIFTEEN CENTS A SACK

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

CHICAGO, Aug. 10.—Advancing wheat prices hit the housewives of the country very hard. In consequence of the huge wheat shortage the price of flour has been advanced fifty cents a barrel. The housewife who buys a big sack will pay 15 cents more than she did yesterday. When the enormous crop losses in the United States, estimated at 358,000,000 bushels, became known and it was further added that black rust in Canada would cut the crop there by 136,000,000 bushels the prices began to soar.

AUSTRALIANS CARRY GERMAN DEFENSES

GEN. HAIG REPORTS THAT FRESH PROGRESS HAS BEEN MADE BY BRITISH NORTHWEST OF POZIERES

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LONDON, Aug. 10.—The Australian troops were the heroes of the day, Wednesday. They attacked the German lines northwest of Pozieres with a dash and vigor that carried them into the trenches which they now hold on a half-mile front for a depth of 200 yards. The British now hold practically the entire second line of German defense. The Germans are violently bombarding the British in the Trones woods.

FRENCH PUSH OFFENSIVE IN THE RAIN

REPUBLICAN TROOPS DRIVE GERMANS OUT OF HELM WOODS AND TAKE 100 PRISONERS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

PARIS, Aug. 10.—Heavy rain is falling on the Western front of the great war. Despite this the French are pushing forward to the attack everywhere with success. In a dashing attack on the Teuton position at Helm woods, the French troops drove the Germans out and captured 100 prisoners. In the direction of Peronne the French artillery is pounding the city and rendering it untenable for the Germans. It is expected that the attack on the German lines there will be begun shortly.

RUSSIANS ADVANCE CLOSER TO STANISLAU

SLAVS CAPTURE CHRYTLIN WITHIN THREE MILES OF IM- PORTANT GALICIAN CITY

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

PETROGRAD, Aug. 10.—Gen. Letchitsky's army is advancing rapidly on the important Galician center of Stanislaw. The forces are now at Chrytlin, a railway station where two of the five railways that intersect at Stanislaw meet. This is three miles from Stanislaw and the advance on that center will not be long delayed. Its capture probably means the later capture of Lemberg and Przemyel.

OHIO FULL OF CORPSES AND DEBRIS OF FLOOD

MORE THAN HUNDRED DROWNED IN COAL RIVER VAL- LEY, WEST VIRGINIA, BY CLOUDBURST

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

GALLIPOLIS, Ohio, Aug. 10.—Corpses mixed up in the debris are floating down the Ohio. The river seems filled with the remains of houses and property of all kinds. This is the result of the cloudburst in Coal River valley. It is estimated that considerably more than 100 persons lost their lives and that more than a million dollars' worth of property was destroyed.

MEDIATION CONFERENCE FACES DIFFICULTIES

REPRESENTATIVES OF RAILROAD WORKERS MAINTAIN FIRM POSITION REGARDING THEIR DEMANDS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

NEW YORK, Aug. 10.—"We are standing firm," was the word brought today from the Mediation conference, by A. D. Garretson, head of the Conductors' Brotherhood.

BIRD AND FLOWER CLUB

SOCIETY MAKES INTERESTING JOURNEY TO TROPICO HILLS

Sixteen children and five adults comprised the happy party which left the Glendale Garden society headquarters Wednesday at 2:15 p. m. for a trip to Tropico hills. The youngest individual was but five years of age; the oldest proudly owned to eighty-five. Thus youth and age met. The elderly visitor with the heart of a young man is well known to Glendale—Mr. Samuel Parker. To see him ascending the hills, marching along as gaily as any boy, enjoying every view, every flower, every bird, and most of all, enjoying the children who sported and gambolled around, afforded to thoughtful minds the most beautiful feature of the afternoon. To those who have lived wisely and well in youth, who have chosen those pleasures and joys which are sweet, pure and wholesome, old age presents no terrors and often proves the happiest and most precious period of one's life.

The ascent of Tropico Hills proved a revelation. The views of Tropico and Glendale from that point are alluring and entirely different from those at any other vantage point. It would be well if every resident of Glendale would take the little trouble and time necessary to follow the trail up Tropico Hills and see for themselves the magnificent panorama lying at their feet. Los Angeles, Silver Lake, Eagle Rock and the Rock itself, Tropico, Glendale, San Fernando Valley—a picture more beautiful than any work of art ever purchased for money.

The eyes and ears of the children have been kept well open during the past week. Edmund Parker brought to Headquarters two eggs of the Valley Quail; they were found in a deserted nest, one egg broken, so Edmund did not transgress any laws of humanity by taking the eggs. Joy Willisford brought a bird's nest on a branch of an orange tree; no one was certain as to the kind of nest, but it was generally conceded to be a linnet's. It was made of fibre and bits of coarse twine; one long piece of twine being actually tied around the branch in two different places, as though the tiny builders were determined no wind or rain should displace their home.

Kathleen Woods brought a black, fuzzy caterpillar. During the trip Ruth Head discovered a tiny field mouse, and Kathleen Woods captured it. Ruth wished to take it home, but when it was shown that the mouse would be as unhappy away from its nest as any little bird would be, the mouse was put carefully back. Very interesting oak-apples or gall nuts were found by various children; some of these were opened and examined, and every child told what they knew about gall apples and oak trees, and the various parasites which live on such trees, as mistletoe, etc.

Honor badges for the best essays were won by Dorothy Sherman, Dorothy Woods, Grace Tower and Edmund Parker. Prizes in the shape of daffodil bulbs were presented by Mrs. Woods to every member of the club for having worked out the flower-puzzle last week. The two puzzles remaining unsolved were conquered by Dorothy Head, Ruth Head, Kathleen Woods, Dorothy Woods and Dorothy Sherman in one case, and Earl Clemens, Kathleen Woods, Dorothy Woods, Katherine Parker and Dorothy Sherman in the other case. All of these received special prizes.

Mrs. H. C. Ackley, Mrs. J. F. Smith, Mrs. Nanno Woods, Mrs. F. W. Kille and Mr. Samuel Parker accompanied the children.

Owing to the absence of Mrs. Woods on a vacation to La Jolla no meetings of the Bird and Flower club will be held during the next two weeks. Therefore Wednesday, August 30, will be the day of the next meeting, of which details will be given later. No new members will be admitted into the club; children wishing to join will have to place their names on a waiting list, and will be admitted in turn whenever a vacancy occurs.

ROBERT CARMACK IMPROVING

Robert Carmack, of 715 N. Central avenue, Tropico, who met with a serious accident when he attempted to board a moving Pacific Electric car on Brand boulevard, is so far recovered that he is able to go out in a wheeled chair. He will ultimately recover the use of his feet.

WEATHER FORECAST—Fair tonight and Friday; cloudy along the coast; westerly winds.

STUDY OF CHILD LIFE

MUTUAL BENEFIT READING CIR- CLE LEARNS OF CHILD PSYCHOLOGY

"The Dawn of Character," a study of child life by the eminent English educator, Edith E. Read Mumford, M. A., is the book under discussion and study by the Mutual Benefit Reading Circle at the present time. The first two essays, "A Plea for a Closer Study of Child Life," and "The Contents of the Child Mind," were taken yesterday.

The members find this work, while dealing with childhood from the psychological viewpoint, exceedingly practical and interesting, as Mrs. Mumford has enriched her work with illustrations from actual life aptly clearing each point made, and making her meaning transparent to all. Mrs. Mumford urges that all who come in contact with children in any capacity (and she claims that everyone has such contact) should understand the proper method of dealing with children. She feels that if parents could criticize themselves more, and search their own motives in their handling of difficult situations, they would become wiser and more ready to meet such situations.

An idea that she advances that is steadily gaining ground is, that elementary child psychology should be taught to every girl before she leaves school. All progressive school courses now offer to girls some preparation for other branches of housewifery, but this most important branch of a woman's work, the handling of the young, has not been taught to future mothers, except in rare cases.

Twenty-seven mothers were present yesterday, including two visitors, Mrs. C. E. Hutchinson, president of the Glendale Federation of Parent-Teacher associations, and Miss Nettie Thompson. Two new members also enrolled, Mrs. W. R. Heustis and Mrs. W. T. Sprowls. Miss Mattie Belle Provolt took capable charge of the children present, giving kindergarten instruction to the little ones.

GLENDALE VOLUNTEERS

Glendale's company of volunteers met Wednesday night as usual at 8 o'clock. Assembling in the firehouse the company listened to an exposition of the duties of the soldier, by Captain Johnston. They then proceeded to the drill hall on the corner of First and Glendale, where considerable practice was given in the new skirmishing formation. The men took to this drill with considerable enthusiasm and then put in some time brushing up on the "School of the Soldier" and the "School of the Squad." It is hoped that before long the Adjutant-General at Sacramento will find time in the midst of his multifarious duties, doubly increased by the conditions on the Mexican frontier, to look into the matter of equipment for the new regiment. The company will meet next Wednesday in the drill hall as usual. All members who have been absent are urged to appear and perfect themselves in the drill.

HORSE SHOE CLUB

A most interesting game of horse shoes was pitched at the grounds of the Glendale Horse Shoe club, Wednesday. Mr. Keim, a veteran player, pitched a wonderful game, almost without a mistake. Sixty-eight points and 42 ringers is pretty near perfection. The State record for ringers is held by Mr. Head of Glendale, who pitched 47 some weeks ago, breaking the State record of 46, which has been made by two or three different players. Following is the score:

Players Points Ringers

Denney 40 33

Head 45 36

Keim 68 42

Schumaker 37 29

KENSINGTON CLUB

The Kensington club, which is an auxiliary of the Woman's Relief corps, met Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. F. A. Pollock, N. Park avenue, at 2 o'clock. There was a good attendance. A delightful luncheon was served. A great deal of very artistic fancy work is being done by the ladies of the club. At the close of the meeting one of the ladies took a group photograph of those present. The club will meet at the houses of members in future as it has been found that the attendance is much better than when the meetings have been held in the G. A. R. hall. Next place of meeting will be announced later.

HOMELESS PEOPLE OF POLAND

In spite of the refusal of the Germans to permit the British to send relief to the starving and destitute in Poland a great movement is going on in the British Isles to send aid to the people of that unfortunate country who are perishing daily for lack of food, and medical comforts. The Germans holding that the needs of their army are beyond anything else have commandeered everything edible and useful in the country. The British long ago organized committees to deal with the situation and were able to send committees that served out provisions and clothing; but that has all been changed of late. The Teutons want command of the provisions that are being sent to the starving inhabitants.

Notwithstanding these discouraging circumstances the British are raising a fund for the homeless in Poland. This is called the "Great Britain to Poland Fund." It is affiliated to the British Moscow Relief committee and the money is sent to the Russo-Asiatic bank in Petrograd. It aims at saving the people and specially giving aid to the Jews who are perishing daily. Those who have seen the havoc wrought in Poland by the war know that the Jew is getting the worst of it there. The Russian oppresses him; the German oppresses him and neither nation would care if the last Jew in Poland were exterminated.

This, too, is the case, although the Jews are fighting valiantly in the armies of Russia and also in the armies of Germany. As civilians, however, neither nation has any use for them. Therefore the food that has been sent to them has frequently gone to the German soldier, whose health as a fighting unit must be preserved.

The devastation of Poland is one of the greatest tragedies of the war. The armies of Russia and the armies of Germany have marched and counter-marched over the length and the breadth of the country and they have left famine, desolation and death in their train. The Russians retreating before the victorious Germans a year ago destroyed the crops and the villages that there might be nothing left to aid the enemy.

Now the Germans, retreating slowly in the face of a victorious Russian army, are destroying as they retreat. The fields are untilled. The villages are destroyed. There is no shelter from the cruel weather, and no food for the hungry. Noble and peasant are alike in their misery and destitution. It is an everyday occurrence to see people once the lords and owners of the country, with fine mansions and well-tilled fields, with retinues of servants and every luxury man can imagine standing in silent, anxious crowds waiting their turn while the soup-kitchens pass along.

Thousands are living in trucks and sleeping on stone floors of railway stations. Women with children in their arms have walked hundreds of miles to escape the horrors of the German invasion and have arrived at their destination so dazed and tired that the joy of seeing a friendly face, or hearing a friendly voice, has been denied them.

"It is the saddest sight I have even seen," writes an eyewitness in a letter from Moscow, "and to all who feel compassion for the victims of the war it may be well to say, that all they can imagine of horror, cruelty, misery, despair, destitution and final cruel deaths from hunger and worse, cannot come within measurable distance of the real facts. Broken men, driven insane by cruelty; women once proud and spotless, now dishonored and eagerly welcoming death; bands of starving, homeless, orphan children, almost destitute of human qualities, wandering everywhere. This is what Russian desertion and German occupation has meant to Poland."

ITALY'S LATEST TRIUMPH

As far as Italy's part in the great war is concerned it is safe to say that the world at large has little conception of the sacrifices that the Italians have been making and of the benefit their work on the Trieste or Isonzo front has been to the Allies. The entrance of Italy into the war was a great shock to Germany and Austria. Italy was one of that triangulated alliance and was expected to fight along with Germany and Austria. Instead of that she remained neutral for a long time until the pressure of the people on the government forced the country into war against Austria. Up to this time Italy has not declared war against Germany.

By entering the war Italy hoped to gain control of the Adriatic sea and of her stolen provinces. By entering the war she has occupied many Austrian divisions and prevented Austria from sending those men to the aid of Germany at Verdun. What would have happened long ago had this been done is seen in what has taken place this week. Austria, alarmed by the advance of the Russians into Hungary and the threat of the breaking up of the Austro-Hungarian empire, removed some troops from the Isonzo front to the Galician area of war to aid in holding back the Russians. This was done at the command of the Germans, who seem to dominate the whole strategy of the Central Powers. The moment the Italians knew of the weakening of the Austrian lines they threw forward their full strength against the bridgehead of Gorizia and carried it after desperate resistance on the part of the Hungarian and Croatian regiments, who fought to the last in defense of a country that has bitterly persecuted them in the past.

Smashing into Gorizia, which had successfully defied all their greatest efforts in the past eight months, the Italians are now occupied in driving forward to Trieste, the important seaport on the province of that name. Once there the whole of the Irredenta provinces will be open to reclamation by them. The Isonzo line was fortified in the most modern style and taking advantage of the almost inaccessible mountain tops presented a series of works which the Austrians boasted could never be taken. One by one they have fallen before the Italians and this last stroke is the greatest of the campaign and the most significant stroke of the war this week.

By capturing Gorizia the Italians have dealt Austria a blow that is paralyzing. It will have far-reaching effects on the various fronts, but specially on the Galician front where the Austrians are being hard pressed along with the Germans by the advancing Russians. Before this serious blow to their prestige the Austrians will halt and hesitate to send any more assistance to the Germans under Von Hindenburg. They will need all their aid for themselves.

Italy has never been given full credit for the gallant and serious part she has taken in this war. Her successes have not been so manifest to the world nor have the difficulties with which she has had to contend been fully appreciated by the people of the Allies' countries. They have taken in this last success more than 10,000 prisoners and an immense quantity of munitions of war, big guns and machine guns. Above all they have dealt Austria a blow that will shortly make its effects felt throughout the whole system of Teuton offense and defense. As far as glory can be gained in war Italy has covered herself with glory.

BURBANK

A smooth talking solicitor worked Burbank and worked Burbank people also a couple of weeks ago. He represented himself as being an agent for the Pictorial Review, and collected many a dollar for renewals. With every fake subscription he gave the promise of a breakfast set. When the magazines failed to come inquiries were made and it was found that the Pictorial Review company had not had any agents or solicitors working in Burbank.

On Wednesday of this week E. L. Manley of Burbank was tried at a preliminary hearing before Judge Summerfield for forging a check for $25.00 on John Harris of near town. Manley worked for Harris last winter and as he had cashed many a check from his former employer at local stores, the Chaffee grocery never questioned cashing a $25.00 check when Manley presented it. When the check was found to be worthless the matter was reported and Manley was arrested by officers near Bakersfield. He was brought back and lodged in the county jail, and Wednesday was bound over under a $2000 bond until the grand jury is called.

De Witt Wilbur, who resides on Angeleno street, was painfully injured on Tuesday of this week while motorcycling on the San Fernando road near the Newhall grade. He collided with an automobile and was thrown with such force to the road that his leg was broken in two places and his knee fractured. Although the injury is of an extremely serious nature Mr. Wilbur is recovering as well as could be expected and it is hoped that he will regain the full use of his leg.

Trustees' Adjourned Meeting of August 3

An adjourned regular meeting of the board of trustees of the city of Burbank was held in the city hall on Aug. 3. In the absence of President Blanchard, Trustee Forbes was appointed president pro tem. Meeting called to order at 8 p. m.

Roll call: Present, Forbes, Pollock, Hogle; absent, Blanchard and Linn.

A communication from F. Curt Miller, manager of the electric light department, giving an estimate of the cost of installing ornamental street lights on San Fernando boulevard was read.

On motion of Pollock, seconded by Hogle, a proposed Ordinance No. 95, "An Ordinance of the city of Burbank providing for the building and specifications for the construction of ornamental street lights, together with the necessary poles, posts, wires, pipe, conduits, lamps and other necessary works and appliances for lighting purposes to be constructed and installed along San Fernando boulevard (commonly known as Second street) from the Southeastly intersection of Providencia avenue and said Second street to the Northwesterly intersection of Cypress avenue and said Second street, all in the said city of Burbank," was read for the first time. Carried.

Mr. Miller consulted with the board the matter of arrangement of lights which should be fixed so as to burn all night throughout the business district. It was decided that he should so provide in the plans that one light should burn all night at each street intersection on San Fernando boulevard, between Tujunga and Magnolia.

Moved by Pollock, seconded by Hogle, that the board adjourn. Carried.

A regular meeting of the board of trustees of the city of Burbank was held in the city hall on Aug. 8.

Meeting called to order at 1:35 p. m. Roll call: Present, Blanchard, pres.; Forbes, Pollock, Linn; absent, Hogle.

Minutes of the last regular and adjourned regular meeting read and approved.

Moved by Pollock, seconded by Forbes, that the following bills, which had been approved by the auditing committee, be allowed and warrants drawn on the proper funds for the same. Carried:

GENERAL FUND
E. K. Wood Lumber Co. $56.40
Jordan System Inspection 1.50
Elec. Light Dept. (city) 1.40

HOUSE PARTY AT LONG BEACH

Miss Anabel McClellan of 318 S. Central avenue, who has been attending a house party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. E. Krinbill of Long Beach, returned home Monday evening accompanied by Mrs. Geo. E. Krinbill and Clarence E. Krinbill of Long Beach, Miss Elizabeth Peters of Patterson, New Jersey, and Miss Rena Iverson of Douglas, Ariz. Rena Iverson of Douglas, Ariz.

WASHABLE WINDOW SHADES

Since everything in the kitchen must have frequent and thorough cleansing, there are no better window shades for this room than home-made ones of unbleached cotton. Good fixtures and cloth the right width are required. If one has a window, however, which is so narrow that even the narrowest cotton is too wide, both sides may be evenly hemmed, turning the cloth but once, and the roller will work all right. In any case, do not tack the cloth directly on the roller, but have a strip of wide tape tacked there permanently and pin the shade to this tape with 10 or 12 pins, smoothly placed. It takes but a moment, on wash day, to unpin the shade, and tape remains tacked evenly in place, ready to have the freshly ironed shade pinned back before it gets wrinkled or folded. The evening before wash day, take the shades down, plunge them in clear water to rinse out the dust; then the shades are washed, dried, slightly starched, and ironed, and go up again looking fresh and tidy and new.

CLOTHES IN THE HOUSE OF COMMONS

Nowadays when a British member of Parliament is free to appear in whatever form of dress best pleases him, it is amusing to read of the fashion in clothes which was in vogue in the House of Commons more than half a century ago, which is faithfully recorded by W. Jeans in his book of Parliamentary reminiscences.

"The custom of members of the House of Commons in the matter of clothes," he writes, "have undergone considerable change since the Parliament whose proceedings I first witnessed. Tall hats were universal, and billycocks would have been regarded if not as vulgar, at least as eccentric. In the summer white hats were more common than now, and the costumes of members in the hot months of the session lighter at least in color than in recent years. Joseph Cowen if not the first member who wore a round felt hat was at least one of the earliest, and from his time the practice grew and has since become quite common. The Sergeant-at-arms in those days even kept an eye on the dress of the men who worked in the press gallery. I recollect that when a colleague of mine came down in a rather loud check suit he received a message from the Sergeant-at-arms requesting him not to appear in it again. Some of the country gentlemen still dressed as was the custom of a generation before. Sir Brooks Bridges, who afterwards became Lord Fitzwalter, generally wore a blue swallow-tailed coat with brass buttons, and a buff waistcoat."

CHINESE LAMP SHADES

The increasing adoption of Chinese decorative effects in furnishings has opened out new lines of activity for those who are skilful with palette and brush. Candle and lamp shades to match the beautiful lacquered chests, and the oriental hangings which belong with them, are easily within reach of the amateur decorator. All that is required is the necessary parchment paper, with a good pattern, and some simple paints. Any work of this kind, of course, be bent or split in order to obtain the desired shape, while the design and coloring must be copied from some real antique, either in lacquer or porcelain.

If there is much black, gold, and scarlet lacquer in the room, the lamp shades should repeat these three features, using preferably a black background and tracing on it in gold and scarlet the chosen design of birds, pine trees, blossoms, or figures. These black shades are, as a matter of fact, very restful. The groundwork is usually washed in first of all, being painted in with Chinese ink by a broad, soft brush and working around the traced pattern which can be filled in afterward. When the lamp or electric light is fitted to a china or porcelain base in oriental design, the shade may be decorated to match the base.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Hough and party, who returned this week from Hermosa beach, report a very pleasant time while there. The fishing was excellent and Mrs. Hough alone had a total of 310 fish caught during her stay.

Mrs. E. W. Hayward of Hartford, Conn., is visiting at the home of her son, J. S. Hayward, 1528 W. First street. Mrs. Hayward is a well-known club woman of the East, and has filled a number of State offices in the Congress of Mothers.

Miss Ethel Murphy, the accomplished teacher of aesthetic dancing in the Glendale branch of the Egan school, which meets in Butler's hall, will be one of the principal terpsichorean performers at the benefit to be given in behalf of Mia Marvin, the youthful danseuse, who has frequently performed at charitable affairs in Glendale. This benefit will be given in the Little Theater, Los Angeles, Thursday evening. Miss Murphy was one of the pupils of the famous Spanish dancer, Madame Matildita, of the La Scala school.

Mrs. M. A. Henry and Mrs. Laura Pitts, mother and sister of councilman C. H. Henry of Tropic, have been entertaining Mrs. M. A. Henry's two sisters, Mrs. Coates of Mt. Calm, Texas, and Mrs. Sanderson of Ennis, Texas; also Mrs. Dr. Cook and son Charley Cook of Ennis, Texas. Mrs. Cook is Mrs. Sanderson's daughter. They have been with Mrs. Henry and Mrs. Pitts for the last three weeks. They returned to their homes in Texas yesterday after visiting places of interest in Southern California. They were delighted with the beauties of California and say they will return again next summer.

BENEFIT ENTERTAINMENT

The entertainment given recently by children at the Pacific Avenue playground proved a success, financially and otherwise. The program consisted of musical numbers and recitations. Piano solos were splendidly rendered by Marjorie Sherman, Nell Hilbert, Avis Thompson, and Lillian Mason. Ethel Wilson gave a number of selections on the harmonica and Lucile Thompson on the violin. Both were thoroughly appreciated. Recitations were given in a very creditable way by Margaret Crawford, Garnet Peters and Nellie Rowe. Elene Grist gave a group of charming vocal selections. Andrew McDonald sang a solo. Much mirth was created by Walter Puffer, Oliver Clark and Norman Begg, who in appropriate costumes and with blacked faces, sang several negro melodies.

The proceeds of the entertainment will be used to buy prizes for the Girls' and Boys' tennis tournament.

VALUE OF THE DANCE

Miss Alice Frank, business manager of the Glendale branch of the Egan school, which meets in Butler's hall, Thursdays, says that the nature and value of dancing have completely changed during the past decade. "The aim of training in dancing nowadays," said Miss Frank, "differs widely from what it did ten years ago. The schools of this age aim at imparting a knowledge and practice of aesthetic dancing. This kind of dancing is gymnastic and corrective. It develops the body in all parts and straightens and imparts life to defective limbs and muscles. "Aesthetic dancing has always a marked influence on those who study it. It gives grace to every movement. The pupils become so interested in their work that they forget hot weather and physical weakness. Dancing of this kind is a different thing from the common and time-worn forms of dancing. It develops the proper muscles in the female system. Athletic and aesthetic dancing give grace and poise and aid in developing a perfect figure. They add a charm to womanly graces and transform even what may be a plain woman into a creature of beauty and life."

AN ECONOMICAL ADMINISTRATION

An administration as economical as is consistent with a rigid enforcement of the law, practical reforms in behalf of wage earners, welfare work for unfortunate girls and a thorough prosecution of every case within the jurisdiction of his office is the platform upon which District Attorney Thomas Lee Woolwine is basing his campaign for re-election, which is one of the most remarkable that has ever been conducted in the county.

Although the Primaries are nearly three weeks off, Woolwine has covered almost every foot of the territory in the county and has endeavored to give voters a clear conception of the duties of a prosecutor.

Many of his speeches have been based upon the department, which, more than any other, in the opinion of Woolwine, has a beneficial effect upon society as a whole. He was the first District Attorney in Los Angeles County to inaugurate a department of welfare work in juvenile and especially feminine criminal cases. One of his first official acts when he assumed office two years ago was to appoint a woman investigator whose duty it has been to lighten the burdens of erring girls and, whenever possible, to prevent their being branded with the stigma of jail sentence or public correction. In his speeches Woolwine has attempted to bring out these facts and to show voters that a great many other beneficial reforms and more modern methods are the need of the office, as taught him by his wide experience.

MR. HAMILTON'S EXPLANATION

TO THE PEOPLE OF LOS ANGELES COUNTY:

The press of Los Angeles has published numerous statements to the effect that I objected in the Board of Supervisors to county employees indulging in the tango and other modern dances at the recent county picnic at Redondo. The fact is that the charge made in the resolution offered by me for the suspension of the accused employee was that he drank to excess and conducted himself in an offensive manner toward several young women who are also in the county service. The evidence taken by the bureau of efficiency shows that the offender admitted that he had been drinking, but claimed that he had taken "only three glasses of beer." Several young ladies testified that he came to them, his breath reeking with liquor, and, when they refused to dance with him on account of his objectionable behavior while dancing, took hold of one young lady and tried to compel her to dance with him. Maintaining that the highest efficiency in the county service can be maintained only by enforcing strict discipline and the highest standards of conduct and character, I sought to have this employee suspended for fifteen days. The political influences which still dominate the Hall of Records made the charges a matter of ridicule, enlisted the press in an effort to make it appear that it was all about the tango and modern dancing, and succeeded in defeating action. I wish the public to know the facts and to be assured that I shall continue to insist on sobriety and good conduct on the part of county officials and employees, regardless of opposition.

JOHN J. HAMILTON,
Supervisor First District.

WARNING

F. Booth says: "Don't be misled by outside solicitors offering all kinds of baits to secure orders. In most cases the people cannot use the goods, the ones who first take the orders and misrepresent the goods, in order to secure their commission, you never see again. A great many people in Glendale have been sadly disappointed in the goods sent out and cannot use them. Deal with your local tradesmen who have a reputation to keep up and who help support the taxes, etc., of the town and who in the event of a complaint can rectify it at once."

SUNLAND

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Adams, Jr., returned from their trip to San Francisco Sunday. They report a pleasant and profitable time.

Ardizom Bros. have purchased a large truck to handle the fruit from their Sunland ranch.

Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Lancaster, daughters Marie and Irene, started for a week's outing on a trip to San Diego in their new Ford, with Miss Marie as driver.

CALIFORNIAN OIL PRODUCTION IN MAY

Figures covering the California petroleum industry for the month of May, prepared and made public by the Independent Oil Producers' Agency, indicate a reduction of stocks of 1,105,066 barrels, a daily average of 35,647. This record compares with a total stock reduction in April of 1,413,235 barrels, a daily average of 47,108, or a daily average difference of 11,461 barrels for the respective periods. Since the first of the current year stocks of California crude have been reduced 4,059,416 barrels, equivalent to 811,883 barrels a month, for the first five months of 1916.

Production for the month of May totaled 7,724,184 barrels, a daily average of 249,167, against a total yield in April of 7,372,480 barrels, a daily average of 245,749, indicating a daily average increase in May over the previous month of 3,418 barrels. The daily average output of the California oil fields during the year 1914 was 281,481 barrels, and for the year 1915, 245,824 barrels.

TOUCHES OF KINSHIP

Regarding that interest in legend which makes the whole world kin, Robert Louis Stevenson said, of his travels among the South Sea Islanders:

"When I desired any detail of savage custom, or of superstitious belief, I cast back in the story of my fathers, and fished for what I wanted with some trait of equal barbarism; Michael Scott . . . the second-sight, the water-kelpie, each of these I found to be a killing bait; the black bull's head of Stirling procured me the legend of Rahero; and what I knew of the Cluny Macphersons, or the Appin Stewarts, enabled me to learn, and helped me to understand, about the Teras of Tahiti. The native was no longer ashamed, his sense of kinship grew warmer, and his lips were opened. It is this sense of kinship that the traveler must rouse and share; or he had better content himself with travels from the blue bed to the brown."

WHEN YOU ARE TALLEST

It has been discovered by physicians who have been examining men for the United States Government that the average man is taller in the early morning than at any other time of the day. The explanation is that the disks of cartilage between the vertebrae of the backbone yield considerably to the pressure due to the weight of the body, when it is erect, and expand themselves while the body is in a recumbent position. This effect may amount to as much as half an inch in the case of heavy men of say five feet, ten inches in height, according to the tables made by the medical examiners.

A DAY

Where but few feet ever stray,
Far beyond the path's advances,
All alone an idler lay,
Half a breezy summer day
Underneath a chestnut's branches.
Close beside his harmless hand
Swinging bees would suck the clover.
And, a moment to be scanned,
Sunlit butterflies expand
Easy wings to bear them over.

Overhead he saw the trees
Nod and beckon to each other,
And, too glad to be at ease,
Saw the green leaves in the breeze
Tingle touching one another;
Saw the little lonely rill
In a line of greener growing,
Slipping downward from the hill,
Curving here and there at will,
Through the tangled grasses going.

Saw, far off, the thin and steep
Cloudy mountain lands of wonder,
Where unseen the torrents leap
Over rifted rocks that keep
Echoing memories of their thunder;

Saw the self-supporting sky
Ever more and more receding;
Saw the clouds go floating by
Loath to linger, loath to fly,
Stranger shapes to strange succeeding.

—Robert Kelly Weeks.

"LET SOMETHING GOOD BE SAID"

When over the fair fame of friend or foe
The shadow of disgrace shall fall, instead
Of words of blame, or proof of thus and so,
Let something good be said.
Forget not that no fellow being yet
May fall so low but love may lift his head.
Even the cheek of shame with tears
is wet,
If something good be said.

Town Meeting

At the town meeting Tuesday evening Mr. Ashby, Mr. Barkley and C. H. Clark reported their meeting as a committee with W. J. Bohon, general manager of the Montrose Railway. Mr. Bohon said he had never known of a district so near a large city capable of so great development that had been so little developed as this valley, which he thought augured well for the future prospects and said he expected to take up the question of the extension of the railroad with his principals and would report in a week or ten days.

Fred M. Ashby received word from the postoffice authorities Tuesday that the name of our postoffice is changed from Littlelands to Tu Junga. The name is distinctive and historical and was the choice of John S. McGroarty as well as a number of other people of our town and vicinity. Every one note the change.

Dr. Haggerty of Minneapolis, nephew of Mrs. A. H. Hubbard, was a visitor recently at the home of his aunt on Stephen's Way. The doctor was for a time associated with the Mayo Brothers of Rochester, Minnesota. This is his first visit to the Pacific coast.

Mr. Newstadt and Mr. Bodkin, both of Los Angeles are here for relief of asthma. Mr. Bodkin expects to be here for some time. They are at the home of Mr. Fred Johnson of Pine street.

Mrs. Fred Johnson visited over last Saturday and Sunday with her friends, Mr. and Mrs. Hargraves of Rose Hill, Los Angeles. She returned home Monday.

Sunday evening the Christian Endeavor society occupied the entire evening with their meeting. Mr. Harold Reed, president of the Sunland Endeavor society, was present and gave a detailed report of the recent C. E. convention held at Stockton, California. Next year the convention is to be at Riverside. Mr. Reed makes a good leader with the gift of being able to hold the attention of the audience. Miss Carrie Adams of Sunland was present and helped to make the program interesting with her singing.

Monday evening occurred the regular monthly business meeting of the C. E. society, followed by a social hour.

The regular monthly meeting of the Poultry club takes place next Monday evening at the schoolhouse.

During the month of July Mrs. Fortner of San Ysidro road joined the Sierra club for a hiking and mountain climbing expedition. There were 276 in the party and Mrs. Fortner was among the number who were successful in reaching the summit of Mt. Whitney. She reports a delightful outing.

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Miles and daughter, Miss Adele, are leaving this morning for an auto trip to Big Bear lake for an outing of from ten days to two weeks. During their absence Mrs. Davidson and grandson, Master Kenneth Miles, will join a party at Long Beach for a visit of two weeks. Mrs. Davidson is the mother of Mrs. Miles.

Mrs. Marston has gone to Long Beach and Sawtelle, to be absent on a two weeks' outing. While she is away her son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Mott M. Marston, will be here to keep house for Mr. Marston, Sr., and little granddaughter Lorraine.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Miles of Stephens Way are spending the summer with friends in Glendale. They will probably be back some time in the fall.

Capt. and Mrs. W. T. Helms were guests over Tuesday night of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Jones of Greely avenue.

Mr. Van Dine, after a visit in Los Angeles for some time past, is at home at his place on North San Ysidro road.

We are sorry to report that Mrs. G. C. Buck is not so well.

Capt. W. T. Helms was present and before introducing him Mr. Ashby spoke of the necessity of maintaining the law.

Capt. Helms, candidate for District Attorney, made a very interesting and telling speech. He said people write their distinctive elements in their constructive projects. A man out for office should be sincere in himself. The captain is an orator and carried his audience with him. He has a sympathy for the unfortunate and the down-trodden. Capt. Helms is a graduate of the Ohio Wesleyan University, the Alma Mater of Dr. B. F. Kearney. He is an old friend of Mrs. Kearney's brother, Ferd B. Volk of Delaware, Ohio, who was on the University baseball team at the time Helms was in school at Delaware.

At the next town meeting will be given a Riley program.

Sunday while the family was absent there occurred a small fire at the Redding home on Michigan avenue. It was supposed to have been caused by spontaneous combustion. Not much damage was done as it occurred near the sink and soon burned itself out.

Mr. Edward Greenfield, secretary of the Western Empire company, was absent from the office last Tuesday. He spent the day in Los Angeles.

LA CRESCENTA

Improvement Association Meeting

An enthusiastic crowd turned out at the Improvement association's meeting last Friday night to hear the campaign speeches of the various candidates who had been invited to speak. Mr. A. C. Cobb presided and introduced the candidates. Early in the evening the booming of cannons and the sweet music of the electric chimes summoned the people from far and wide to the meeting and the hall was packed, many women voters being in evidence. Mr. Jonathan Dodge, mayor of South Pasadena, was the first speaker. He had been invited to speak on "Improvements Needed in the Valley." Mr. Dodge thought that La Crescenta needed shade trees along the streets more than anything else. Those of us who have walked up and down our roads on a hot day will perhaps agree with Mr. Dodge on that point. He told of the desirability of many kinds of trees and gave much valuable advice. The Improvement association should give this problem attention.

Mr. Dodge also suggested that guard rails be placed at several dangerous places along the highway. He then launched into his campaign address, stating that he was a candidate for supervisor from the 5th District and that he favored lower taxes, economy and efficiency. He deplored the extravagant manner in which the present supervisors had conducted county business.

John T. Wilson, also a candidate for supervisor, spoke next. He said in part: "I have lived in the San Fernando valley for 43 years and am acquainted with the history of the supervisors' office for the last 30 years." He denounced the waste and extravagance of the incumbent supervisors and exposed several instances. He spoke largely on the Flood Control problem and was evidently well versed on that subject.

The next speaker was P. H. McNutt of Glendale, candidate for Assemblyman of the 61st District. He spoke on the need of the simplification of the many ambiguous laws which the last legislature had enacted.

All three candidates spoke very interestingly and were appreciated. Between the speeches the audience was favored by some splendid vocal selections. It is hoped that the interest taken in these meetings will continue to increase.

Entertainment

Under auspices of Woman's club, to be given at the school Friday evening, Aug. 11, for the benefit of French orphan, is going to be fine. Good music and a snappy little play. Grown-ups, 15 cents; children, 10 cents. There will also be on sale ice cream, candy and soft drinks. Every one come and bring your friends. Glendale people cordially invited. It's going to be moonlight!

An effort is being made to build a tennis court for the benefit of the community on the church lots north of Michigan avenue near the store. Money has been subscribed for materials. The grading and building of backstops, etc., will needs be done by donated labor or by cash subscriptions to pay for labor. The work will be started as soon as the way is clear. People who wish to have a part in the work should leave their names at the La Crescenta store.

"California Dry" will be the theme Sunday night at the Presbyterian church. Special speaker from Los Angeles. Everybody come.

Mr. Groton had his Ford stolen last Monday.
